

All-Flex Printing Pad Material from Inkcups Now Corporation

Inkcups Now announces the availability of the All-Flex Series print pad material. This popular material has been sold in the industry for many years and can be recognized by its distinctive blue color and excellent ink pickup and transfer capabilities. All-Flex is a general purpose pad material known for quick break-in period and ability to be used with many types of inks.

"With the addition of the All-Flex silicone," says Bob Taylor, Inkcups Now Production Manager, "ICN carries the broadest range of printing pad materials in the industry. We also offer highly competitive pricing and great service... We just do everything to win the loyalty of our customers."
